Abundance Affirmations

Abundance affirmations are a great way to boost your vibrational frequency and move into alignment with the essence of abundance. Here's the trick to using them effectively: you must FEEL the essence of the words you are saying. When you say the words with passion and power and really tune into the FEELING that the words are describing, you become receptive to money, abundance, and all good things.

Below you'll find 44 abundance affirmations to help you shift your feelings about money into a very positive place. You don't have to use all of them at once. Just pick a few favorites, write them down, keep them with you, post them on your bathroom mirror, in your car, wherever you'll see them frequently.

Then say them out loud or just mentally as often as you can, with a lot of passion and enthusiasm. FEEL the words, don't just say them. If you want to boost their effectiveness even further, hold some money in your hands while you recite the words. Look at the money and really tune into it, opening yourself to the essence of money and abundance and allowing it to flow into your life.
